When it happens, check in the upper right for the button "Printscreen" and press that button, then open up Paint and press Ctrl+V. Now the screenshot appears and now you will have to save it to JPG. When you have done that upload it, under the message body (the thing where you type all the text in when you want to psot something) is a button that makes you able to upload it.

Do this and when it's uploaded, check their again and there schould be a button that makes you able to put the uploaded file in the text.
