BlazerTry_leeHave we actually had any need to be moderated yet?

Speaking of that, I am very pleasantly surprised that we have had no "problems" yet with people spamming or deliberately breaking the few logical rules we have in place. :bigups:

I think you can mainly put that down to the amount of respect people have for you and Crimson...

There again there's always the odd un-honorable n00b comes along...

Perhaps there finding it hard to get to the forums I heard n00bs don't do to well with change.
