I played today a bit and I must say it was great

(then again, I was the one in the orca)

edit: (read m1a1_abrams' post)

The problem with apaches in my opinion is usually the fact that you can shoot straight forward with the minigun. When an orca and an apache are both as high as they can, the orca can shoot the apache no matter what it's facing, however the apache can't shoot the orca if it's not going away from it or facing the opposite direction.
