Wait. What? I thought All-Out War mode was that modified Core Patch 1 mode with additional and repairable(re-purchaseable) defensive structures, altered vehicle stats, and crap like that? In addition, I thought Command & Conquer Mode was [b]originally[/i] going to be just that; one person is the Commander for each team, the rest of the players run around, either of their own free will, or under guidance of their Commander as the Commander builds new weaponry, units, structures, etc.? Hell, I just call it "Assault Mode," myself...
