I dont think thats too smart for your reputation (which is crap already anyway) and i cant see how it can get any worse. However, dont start again on that ban please. It will help you nothing accusing me by saying i started about your grandpa.

Now please tell me your age again, and we might talk further again. If it is above 12 it means you are lying to me, and i dont speak with liars

I was told by Goztow i would find some amusing posts here, and i found them Great DJM is still around here, good fun he is!

Ah the classic idiot psychology, I'm surprised you haven't resorted to "ur mom" jokes again yet.

First of all it's spelled "bollocks", "thats" would suggest multiple instances of "that", it's "I" not "i", "can't" not "cant", "don't" not "dont", "it will help you nothing" makes no senSe and you've missed a load of full stops. How about putting that into proper syntax, form, and grammar so that I can at least understand what you are saying before I dismiss it? You obviously don't listen in your English classes, I suggest you give the taxpayers their money back, no use it being wasted on little boys like you.

In regards to your "post", if there's an idea in your head, it's in solitary confinement. Are you always this ignorant, or are you making a special effort today? What possessed you to think that you were capable of being entertaining or interesting to read? Do yourself and everyone else a favor: disconnect your computer from the Internet.

First of all, I don't give a flying fuck what my reputation is like, in fact I couldn't care less. Don't make me get started on your encyclopedic ignorance again, Goztow mentioned that ban first, I mentioned a kick, and I'll swear to God that's what happened. Still, feel free to riddle us with your usual, constant stream of proverbial rubbish, I'm sure most users here would enjoy dismissing it entirely.

How is stating what happened going to help me anyway? I never said it would.

I am 16 for your information, and I'm not one single bit ashamed of it. How that has anything to do with this situation is beyond me, maybe you can enlighten me? If you're saying the way I type is equal to that of a twelve year old, based on your logic, I could deduce that you are around the age of 3.

It doesn't take a rocket scientist to know that your logic is obviously flawed, like your pathetic moderating ability. So it goes without saying that your assumption that I'm lying is in itself, bullshit.

Yes it's so obviously amusing, maybe you could tell me what the punchline is? Maybe instead of trying to boost your egos by pretending to find my posts funny you could pull your heads out of your asses and come up with something original.

In conclusion, sit down and shut up before trip over your own tongue and hurt yourself.
