Actually, I forgot to mention that I've played Renegade earlier with 4x AF, like usual with the new setup, and I've checked the temperatures just to make sure while I was in-game... Never wavered from 40C or so.

I just uninstalled the drivers via that driver uninstallation program in safe mode, and the card has its own power cord running to it without being plugged into anything else. I doubt it's my PSU considering I bought a PC Power & Cooling 410w a few weeks ago.
