...showing the huge point/kill gap between me and him/her. Go on a "road rage" and whenever he/she is on the other team proceed to kill him/her every chance you get until he/she has left. (this includes spawn killing, running them over with an apc even if they throw c4 on it(for the sake of running them over), and misc. other ways to deal with them.)

as for acting stupid. I do it all the time but not really because of that. Half the time I end up doing better even when using humvees/buggies all game. Though when i really want to start doing damage, i'll buy a tib sydney and start shooting the obelisk on Hourglass.
