Your wish is granted, but everyone becomes rich and fat. Then there is world peace and every country melts down their weapons. All is well for a short time, then aliens attack us and we have forgotten how to fight due to world peace, plus everyone one is fat and if we did have guns or missiles, peoples fingers would be too fat to pull the trigger or push the red button. We all become slaves of this alien race and eventually die.

I wish i had a 1gbps internet connection. With unlimited bandwidth.
