its a problem becuase on start up all i have on my screen is renguard on the taskbar.. i can click it.. then it minimizes itself in the system tray when i click the system tray its back in the taskbar.. nothing else shown.. i then have to right click and select maximize otherwise i cannot see it at all its just annoying to use like this also i think i have found the problem are these values suppoed to be that high?

its the top and left registry values that have screwed it up DethDeath sent me his reg settings and it worked now somebody needs to figure out why that happened.. i never did it ^_^
