1. Dead DaveLet them think that they have won the arguement, just to let the whole thing go. Afterwards, enjoy all the laughter at their stupidity behind their back. Argueing face to face with a "little kid" is pretty useless since they havn't developed any real logic.

2. afterward get a friend and laugh at it together; twice the fun.

After all what are u trying to accomplish?

Kids are hardheaded, ignorant, annoying,...

so u'l iether end up with having a big headache or a nice anecdote to amuse your friends.
