First and foremost cheaters.

The damage a ramjet inflicts on light armor vehicles.

Wreckage shells, and vehicle crates, especially when you have taken the other teams building.

The stupid ass God crate what the fuck is that bullshit.

The fact that your team can dominate a match, and lose by points. IE A match at Walls where Nod has all 4 structures and GDI only has the barracks.

That a sniper at Field can be the games MVP.

Players with tunnel vision. "I want to be a sniper, and I don't care if the refinery is almost gone. I'm getting a sniper."

Players that over value a character and undervalue a structure. I saw an SBH watch a hotwire go into the refinery. He keyed the radio but never went in to defend it himself. A 400 credit character is worth more than the refinery? Thats only if he gets killed.

What is the song by Sonny and Cher? "And the list goes on"

I forgot these gems.

Leaving a structure repairable after detonating 2 remote and 2 timed c4.

Blasting your enemy in the back of the head with a shotgun, then proceeding to fight with them to get the kill.

Killing your enemy with one shotgun blast, even though it was a clear miss.

Warping, especially when I have just tossed my c4 on to the MCT.
