cracks nuckles Ok, this might take a sec...

People who !n00b me for tunnel mining, even when I get twice as many kills than them.
People who accuse me of hacking when I salute them.
My biggest complaint: Idlers. These people deserve a special place in heck.
RG users who use aimbot and get 70 kills while those who actually have skill can only get 30. I'm talking about you, P0thead.
People who use "1337 5p34k."
The rule where I can't speak German.
Idiots who fill the Barracks with 30 mines and yell at their teammates for trying to mine the PP.
PEOPLE WITH THEIR CAPS LOCK KEY STUCK. Sheesh.
People who insult the administrator.
People who login and sit around in the barracks typing "this game sux" for the whole game. Pick up a d rifle and help, or leave!
People who will attempt to repair a building while they're standing on top of a timed c4.
!n00b wars. 'Nuff said.
!recs for "so-and-so !n00bed you, so I'll make up for it."
People who donate me their entire fortune in the last 30 seconds expecting a !rec.
People who donate me 5 creds at any point and ask for a !rec.
People who ask me for a !rec.

----Wow, I think I'm getting WAY too into this.----

People who flood the server with insults.
People who take the spawn weapons after I kill a small army while they hide in a corner.
People who wonder why I !n00b them for that.
People who call me b3. It's b3rku7. Or preferrably, Berkut. No one names their kid b3.
People who "txt typ."
People who type in the dark.
56K users.
People who mock me for !rg'ing myself. (I sometimes need to test if my RG has crashed.)
People who, and I will never understand this, shout "It's Peanut butter and Jelly Time!" 50 times on one map.
The difficulty in reporting exploits.
Parents who haven't talked to their kids about network security and they repeatedly try to tell me their name, age, address, etc.
People who stand still in the middle of a field and call me "nubjut" when I kill them.
People who Apache rush, and then complain when our 'nubjets' wipe them from the sky in seconds.
Certain cocky moderators. (Yeah, you have rank, but you're not gods. Some of my fellow cadet Master Sergeants make more mistakes than our Corporals.)
People who try to advertise their sites/products/selves. Get a life.
The laser-chaingunner's character model. Butt-ugly.
Idiot's trying to fly transport heli's in the midst of actual pilots. I enjoy shooting you down .

Chem sprayers. I imagine they smell quite bad.

Mutant Raveshaw (as a character). Jerk. 10 headshots with a rocket launcher, twenty pounds of c4, 3 cannisters of combustible oil... and two shots with a pistol. I still died.

Alright. That's enough for now.

EDIT: Er, the Raveshaw thing refers to single-player mode.
