it depends on the map and size of the game imo. Large game with base defences its quite liekly that it will go down to points, then pointwhore ftw, if your gonna pointwhore best to do it properly though get a tech/arty and try to kill any units that come to move you. Arties pwn infantry if u can actually shoot and a tech can repair faster than any infantry can do damage - only real threat is a med tank and that all depends on the server (some servers you can repair faster than a med does damage, others the med will do more then u can repair - weird i know).

U can always use a camping vehicle to rush when the n00bs on ur team finally catch up with you and bring support out.
