Thanks everyone for your comments.

As far as the negative comments go, sorry you feel that way, but the map is quite fun so far aside from some vegetation issues.

This isn't C&C City where the night is lit up brighter then the day, this is night in the middle of a jungle. I will be helping dw with the light pass putting them in intelligent places that will help light up certain areas of the map that "need" to be lit up, but others will remain quite dark making you use either your nightvision, headlights, or flashlights.
