It will kill any part of an html document, not just pics.
There are about a thousand parts on a page like these. On a very simple page there may be only one or two.

Gostow, you have no idea what you're missing. Opera 8.54 is amazing. I think I finally got these into a format that will work. Open the page then drag it to your browsers tool bar. click on it then point over annoying page shit. It will outline the frame in a debug mode, then click delete. Shit be gone ( although in 9.0 I have to use context menu by right ctrl and shift buttons) When you finish hit escape to cancel kill mode.
