It's just like I said. The name that's in RenGuard must match the name that's used ingame for it to recognize it as connected to the RenGuard network. If the name doesn't match the one you use, just open Renegade, log in, then close Renegade and RenGuard, then open up RenGuard and Renegade again, and it should recognize you running RenGuard.

Basically, RenGuard keeps the name of the last player who logged in to XWIS/GameSpy/etc., and uses it the next time RenGuard is opened.
