How do they own ATI? If you are talking about nvidias SLI, have you heard of ATI's crossfire?

Anyway i dont know what to think of this, but possibly that ATI cards may only be made for AMD's, which is ok at the moment bcoz i would go for the both of them.
But would other people like this?

Like I said earlier, ATI doesn't like to lose money. They're not going to cut off their products from the majority of computer users.
