hey, does anybody need a modeller for a total conversion or somethink cos i have loads of free time nowadays and i feel like doing somethink worth doing instead of random stuff. I've been using 3ds max for about 4 years now and i know i could make alot of really interesting and cool stuff if i had a cause (rather than me messing around) so if anyone is involved in a total conversion or anything and would be interested in me then gimme a shout.

edit

i'll see if i can get some pics of stuff i've made
