Whoops...looks like someones lives at home and doesn't even have a job. That's okay most people use the internet to lead a double life. If you wanna be a badass ex-marine law enforcement game programmer college graduate, then you can be! I'm just glad we don't see the other part of you where you join AOL chat rooms as "hotchik69" and cyber with guys while you spank off into a sock and then cry yourself to sleep on your cock-shaped pillow.

Indeed.. I pretend to be a girl who works for nasa that chats up losers over chat rooms for some cyber love.

(lol)

Even though you have caught him in his lies, he will will ignore this and pretend that you didnt see the same IP each and every time he posts.

Funny that.
