I already have a Microsoft Intelimouse from the computer that died. So I don't need a mouse. I still have a nice working Microsoft Internet Keyboard too but... I <3 Saitek Eclipses so I couldn't resist. What I would like actually are links to the actual Newegg peices. There are like 28 7900GTs, I dont know which ones are good or bad, or have memory corruption something or others DaEspion was talking about. While I do have enough for dual 7950s... As I said in n00bstories that's crossing the line into cartoonish super-villany.
