codemancq wrote on Tue, 22 August 2006 20:26hehe I think that is me you are talking about! I've used those names to cheat before(hypothetically). I have been playing Renegade for over 3 years, I've modded on a couple of major servers, and I'll hack whenever the hell I want, and you can't do shit about it.

Those aren't registered names either, they are just spoofed names that I inject into renegade with a memory editor. If you try to ban me, I change my name around, change my ip, and reconnect.

And for the record, I have stopped cheating. And no, Im not using renguard.

But the bottom line is, you can't stop me unless I want to stop, and if you try to, I'll spoof your name, and go on a hack fiesta with your name, permanently damaging your reputation, and getting you banned from every major server on Renegade(which I have done successfully to many cokemites just like yourself).

Im a n00b, I know. You can delete this, you can respond to this. Hell, you can even print this post out and send it to your grandmother if you want. Bottom line is, nothing you do will make a difference. So just quit your bitching, and be glad that you are fortunate to have a computer and internet.

The End.

(ps-you would be suprised how many Renegade player's passwords(this account for example) are identical to their account on this site)

(psps-I like threads like this)

(pspsps-Im not fishies23, nor codemancq)

Edit-I apologize for the foul language and the two Bottom Lines. I think there has been a WWF commercial playing over the radio while Im asleep.

You're a god damn child. I don't give a fuck how intelligent you are or claim to be.

"I can do what I want, when I want." Congratulations, you've voluntarily placed yourself amongst all the idiotic children who have the same immature mentality. Whether or not you give a damn is not an issue for me. I just thought you'd like to hear that from someone on your intelligence level, or so the level you claim to be at.

As for making that kiddiot remark about being lucky to have a computer and internet connection, you've now lowered yourself to the level of a prepubescent script kiddie. So let's recap: you've proven yourself to be at the same maturity level of a selfish, ignorant child and a prepubescent script kiddie. ALL IN ONE POST. While it may be "the internet" (as a likely response would be), it's still shows that you have this capability, and that is a major flaw. My guess is that you're no older than 18, gathered by the literacy that you have. However, as far as maturity goes, you're no better than the half-wits on these forums.
