Though I agree that what happened is just another example of xwis not being what it was supposed to be and nothing be done to fix/change/upgrade it. I also agree that olaf needs to answer some questions for a change instead of giving vague bullshit and dodging the questions/issues. BUT you have made it clear that you are clueless so please just stfu, thank you.

Since you are such an authority on the subject of which I'm speaking of, please point out what I have said that makes me "have no clue" what I'm talking about.
