Lmao? Who's "working on it"? and even if they are, great! the auto report ladder will be back up (although it will be a miracle if it doesnt have 5000 bugs like the old one did).

It's true. About a week after XWIS included Clanwars.cc in Renegade's message of the day, Crimson announced that BHS are going to work on the automatic clan ladder.

Nobody in BHS thought it was important until that message of the day was changed. The ten months of the ladder's absolute uselessness did not figure in their estimation.

So yeah, sometime in the future (don't ask me when) there might be an auto ladder again. Just remember that Clanwars.cc's Renegade ladder was created out of a desire to provide clan support to Renegade. BHS's ladder is being created out of bitterness and jealousy. That's not to say it won't suck though, hell, it might be usable.
