Im done with all of this, I told fl00d3d keep the 30 dollars, theres way to much drama involved with all this. Im trying to keep my nose clean, and run my server, and cant do it by being involved with all of this.

I have shut my server down on the box teh-pwnerer, you were paid for the server running on the a000000ic name, so I expect it to stay online.

I dont wanna be involved in whatever is going on with all of this.

There was talk of stealing of serials by greg, I was told that by numerous people, its a battle over an a000 name, and its not worth all this trouble, people stealing others website templates and everything else.

Fl00d3d was told to keep the money, that where I stand on this situation, I told teh-pwnerer Id idnt like the other people he was involved with, such a KrY aka Tyler Riveria.

I do know that fl00d3d left greg, cuz I knew it before Greg did. Ive learned through all the crap ive been through, its a game, and it isnt worth all this trouble, Ive made my mistakes, and I deal with my rep everyday. But greg, my advice is to drop the whole thing, let it go, and dont bury yourself in it.

Greg wether your server was attacked or not, I dont know, but UDP floods arent somethign to throw around with accusations, unless you know who did it. Been there done that. Not a pretty sight.

Let it go, and start fresh. Thats my take on the whole situation.
