I hardly play games these days anyway, so when i wont play games, imma go on my mac those r only dreams tho lol

you do know that there is software for mac called boot camp, you can run pretty much any windows/linux software in it, and since i know you can afford it, you may as well do that also, there are some games you can play on mac. WoW, I think UT as well, there are many more, just don't remember them.

<http://www.apple.com/macosx/bootcamp/>
