Aircraftkiller wrote on Sun, 10 September 2006 17:12 If I'm not mistaken, Opera 9's widget system does everything Firefox "extensions" do

Show me widgets that:

1. Mimics Adblock plus (the inbuilt content blocker is not as good as adblock)
2. Will highlight the current element I have moused over on a page
3. Will allow me to change proxy servers with 1 click etc.

Opera widgets are as good as useless to me, they are too much like desktop widgets.
