I have responded over and over and over and over and over to these accusations, and no one's mind has been changed one way or another. You guys won't be satisfied until I say Spooky was 100% right, and I can't do that because he's not.

I agree that the discussion should have always been about the merits of the CW ladder and the integrity of its leadership, founders, owners. But some people have to resort to ad hominem and attack the person instead of the argument. I sincerely hope that the CW ladder is run with a lot more integrity than it did when I into clanning. I really do. But given the way that community has treated me in the past, I am not going out of my way to find out if they've changed and support or promote what they're doing. If they (the CW founders, not Spooky) are not going out of their way to listen to me and stop childishy insulting me, then I'm not going out of my way to help them in any way. I'm sorry if you think that's wrong, but that's how I feel about it.

It seems to me that the whole thing is over your uncanny ability to hold a grudge. A grudge against players who no longer play the game nor participate in anything that has to do with the game. Playing in both the new league and the old league i can tell you that the league is run a hell of alot better today then it was years ago. And if I remember correctly that all started because someone killed someones hand of nod before everyone had loaded into the game. Honestly, who the fuck cares I wish this stupid feud would just end. Almost everyone I ever played a competitive game with i disliked at one point or another including spooky and a close personal friend of mine. But everyone always apologizes in the end and lets bye gones be bye gones. Maybe you should try the same thing. I know people at CW will always flame you just like i will probably always be flamed by people here but honestly who cares.

Another issue is that if you were to start up clan ladder all it would do is split the communitys more. Some would play on CW and others would play on your ladder and there arent enough people who play clan matchs to split in half.

There are probably alot of spelling and grammer errors in this post so i apologize, i didnt edit it because honestly who cares.

That's exactly how I feel about it...I see no reason why a league run by Spooky shouldn't be supported by Crimson...all her accusations about him deleting the forums and being involved in a DDoSwar between n00bstories and n00bstation have turned out to be false, so what has he possibly done wrong to warrant such a resentment? Being involved with people that Crimson holds a grudge with because of something that has happened over 4 years ago? That would seem quite childish to me.
