aside from my little post of immaturity, I am well aware and know that either you/iron_fart placed those on the website in order to frame me. I am not stupid, I would not have placed phishing files on a site that I paid for, thats like shooting myself in the foot. If it were found by the host, I would be the one responsible, it just makes no sense. Now, instead of being a major dick(like you were) you simply could have asked me to leave, but thats beyond the point now. good luck with you and your "clan".
