Start > Control Pannel

A window will pop up, look for "Add or Remove Programs", when found, click it.

Wait for the list to be populated, as it will say, then scroll down till you see "RenGuard". Click on "RenGuard" and click "Change/Remove". Another window will pop up, select "Remove" then click "Next" towards the bottum right. If this doesn't work, go through the same process, but when you reach to where you click "Remove" click "Repair" instead.
