Well you can, here is the full story.

Barry Green from Fiercely Independent Films Films recently contacted Sonic of CNCNZ; Fiercely Independent Films were the people who made some of the set designs for Tiberian Sun and Red Alert 2. And apparently now they are selling some of the sets that they made, they may be pricey but boy could you do a lot with them if you were to get one. Here is the e-mail sent to sonic and a could example pictures:

Hi, I was line producer/production manager for Westwood Studios' video department, and the original sets are all available for sale to collectors. Do you think anyone would want to buy the original Kodiak or Montauk set, or the Russian Premiere's office, etc?

These were expensive sets to build -- the Kodiak alone was $40,000. The total value of all the sets combined is about $225,000.

I'd like to see these sets go to someone who would appreciate them if possible. You can see the sets at <http://www.fiercely-independent.com/sets/index.html>.

Please let me know if you can think of someone who would have the means to acquire some or all of these sets and who would appreciate having genuine C&C history in their living room/back yard/office/den, etc.

Thanks,

Barry Green
