j_ball430Like xptek, I have not seen any evidences [sic] of Kholdstare DDoSing people

Does this count as evidence for you?

How about this?

And are you gonna tell me that Kholdstare isn't the guy Crimson's talking about here?

I would include what Spooky said about Crimson's "pet bulldog" comment, but you wouldn't take that as evidence because Spooky's the one saying it.

And, I would have included my OWN account of how he DDoS'd ME on a RenAlert server, but you probably wouldn't believe me, either, since you don't think my reputation is worth defending.

Is that enough "evidences" for you?

jschultz9Couldnt [sic] have said it better myself. So what, khold ddosed you, OMFG lifes [sic] gonna end. Dont [sic] come running around crying cuz [sic] you got hit by someone. It happens everyday to alot of people. Get over it, move on, unplug your computer, and read a book or STFU and then unplug your computer and read a book.

(You like being redundant, don't ya?)

Do you not realize you can make the same argument to justify cheating? Let me reword it for you (while cleaning up the blatant grammatical errors that any fourth grader could see and correct):

"Couldn't have said it better myself. So what, Khold cheated in the server, OMFG life's gonna end! Don't come running around crying because someone cheated in the server. It happens everyday to so many other servers out there. Get over it, move on, unplug your computer, and read a book or STFU."

I hope for the sake of your credibility that you have never encouraged the use of Renguard. Otherwise, congratulations! You're a hypocrite!

CrimsonDo you have some magical way to ban someone who can change their IP address at will, SWEETIE?

I'm going to admit that I don't know all that much about coding, dynamic IP addresses, IRC bots, server-side scripts, and all that technical kind of crap, but I'm gonna make a few logical assumptions and just go from there.

You say he can change his IP address at will.

If I understand basic "hacking" correctly, changing your IP at will is one of the first basic things any budding script kiddie learns how to do. I'm also going to assume that Kholdstare isn't the only person in the entire world who knows how to change his IP address.

Are you going to tell me, though, that in all the years previous to Renguard's release that you have NEVER, not even ONCE, encountered a cheater who, like Kholdstare, knew how to change his IP address? Are you saying that there has never been a cheater, using Final Renegade or Big Head or whatever, who knew how to change his IP address to evade his bans?

Frankly, I find all that a little hard to believe.

I don't even care if there's a permanent way to ban him, though. What I care about is whether or not the N00bstories administration (read: you) actually tries to do something about it. It may be nearly impossible to ban the guy permanently because he is able to pull all this IP address changing bullshit and whatnot; all that I care is that N00bstories is going to be a place that doesn't tolerate DDoS'ing assholes like that and will ban him on sight every single time he tries to rejoin. He'd eventually get bored of trying to rejoin only to get banned again, and the problem would subside at least for a while.

What I see coming from you, however, is a lack of any action whatsoever. In fact, you're making excuses for allowing the guy to do whatever the hell he wants.

That's like the police making excuses for the serial convenience store robber who they just can't seem to catch.

Sure, the guy may be difficult to catch and extremely good at what he does, but ya know what? The cops have an obligation to society to try to catch that criminal and end his long string of crimes.

What you're doing is allowing Kholdstare to rob as many stores as he wants, and sitting back and saying, "I can't catch him because he runs too fast." I don't give a shit! He just stole all the money out of my cash register and held me up at gunpoint! GET AFTER HIM!

I make that analogy assuming you are not, in fact, in bed with the enemy. If (or should I say "since" based on the mounting evidence against you?) you're really no better than he is, or are in some sort of alliance with him, then I can understand perfectly why you're not doing anything to punish him.

I guess you could say the police are corrupt.
