I voted yes.

I tried to like ack. I always said, he has done a fair bit for this community, made some good maps, developed the most successful mod for this game etc.

But he is always putting crap on people. In the ways of a grammar nazi, putting people's work down, leaking mods. He's a fire starter.

Most of all, he says he hates this game. Then why is he here? Why does he continue to linger here, put crap on a great game most of us love, put people down, and spread hatred and shit around the community.

To me, he should just piss off.

To all those that are his friends or are close to ack. Be warned and be wary. I thought ack and crimmy were close friends too, she always gave him the benefit of the doubt, even put him above the communities best interests sometimes. Well i was obviously wrong. For someone to do all of this to a close friend, then there is the chance he may do it again. Who knows how many of you he has IRC conversations saved.

Anyway, if ack claims he doesnt care about this place. He wont really give a shit if he doesn't come back.

My two cents.
