Darker. You sir, are an idiot

In fact, one might say you are a Fucktard. Another might say you're a Fuckwit. I say O RLY, how about both.

Uhuh.

Err...(3 TO BE A TRUE ELLIPSE)

Heh.

Huh.

PS: Darker, welcome to the ways of an idiot.

An idiot is a person who acts like a complete moron. No, let me amend that. An idiot is a person who is a complete moron. They make a thread and say "anyone who responds in a way I deem unacceptable is mad/geek/whatever" Unfortunately for idiots, they do not realize that you cannot tell a person is angry or geeks. These idiots (morons) also like to complain about small things like, "Hey, look at that guy's syntax! He's got capital letters and makes an attempt to spell correctly - therefore he must be attempting to act smarter than me. Because anyone who doesn't follow the internet tread...err... I mean e-tread, by spelling things like "ur" and "wat", is just an attempt to make themselves think they're more important/better. No, it couldn't just be that these people want to practice good grammar and punctuation because they might have jobs in the future that depends on being able to spell correctly, or not like a dumbass.

Ironically, these idiots think they're better for some reason, even though they do the exact same things they preach against. This makes them hypocrites, or just really dumb.

There are many different ways to be classified an idiot, if one was to look for a clearer definition of one. One could just read everything Darker says.

Anyways

I declare this thread closed in the name of Newfoundland
