When you open your mind to these possibilities you can find what could be evidence of it all over. I'm not all that sure which of it is and isn't true but I'm not ready to declare it all bullshit, as much as I'd ilke it to NOT be true. Just like the Pentagon being hit by a missile, right? That has a lot of "evidence". Blazer could just be a part of the conspiracy, too.

What about how there was a second plane following the one that hit the Pentagon that they disappeared from media coverage? Blazer saw that. What other lies are we told?

It's all about being open to the possibilities. Believing there COULD be a conspiracy present isn't the same as acting on it.

How good can Blazer be as a wittess?, I dont know him, so cant say I trust him as I would trust a friend I know in real life.

Just cause he "saw" something, doesnt make it what he saw, true, people have been seeing UFOs for 100s of years only to be told, that it was infact not a UFO it was some weird space thing or a new plane being tested, etc.

Also there are many other factors, the human brain when faced with something that it cant understand will interpate what the eye is seeing into something elas, making him believe he saw a plane hit building but infact, it was something elas.

What I totally love about this and that Pentagon is the worlds more secure heavy defended air of space in the world.. there is not CCTV flim of the object hitting the Pentagon.and the fact there is a large number of people saying that people working for the US gov, on the same day, visited many places of work with CCTV covarge and had their tapes taken away, why?, these people make this shit up?, unlikely, if this is true, which is lacky it is, why did they take away the tapes?

Yes, planes did hit the WTC, we all saw that on tv live. , but none hitting the Pentagon.

I can say this, the offical story about that day, is Bull Shit and for anyone to believe that story without any douth about the story, whatever small or large, then you must be as brain washed as the germans was back in 1942 with the nazis.

Something happend on that day that we havent been told about and not gonna be told about in our life times and many more.

(will fix my spelling errors and other shit tomorrow, but its almost 7am and am too tired, lol)
