Congratulations tanner, you actually made me register to this site despite my horrid habit of procrastination. Might I say that you should not be ashamed, oh no, something like this HAS happened before; twice as far as I can recall.

You have claimed to be "brave" in one of your earlier posts, let me show you what bravery is, and it's cousin, stupidity.

Bravery - Also known as courage. The act of unyielding inner strength towards a situation despite the presence of fear within the person, resulting of an outcome that is against the situation that is provoking the fear. In basic terms, ignoring the primal instinct to flee or panic.

Stupidity - To be ignorant, sometimes resulting in an outcome that may provoke fear within a person. An example of stupidity would be committing brave actions without knowing their true danger.

As I understand you posted that screenshot whilst failing to check if there are any tell-tale signs of foul play, thus resulting in your discovery as a cheater, therefore, you showed a strong sense of stupidity. Perhaps I may be wrong however. It may have been true that you posted that screenshot without being too bothered about your ammo count, that is until I read your future comments.

"U ALL BETTER SHUT THE FUCK UP I HAVE NOT DOEN SHIT TO YOU SO IF U KEEP TALKING SHIT THEN SAY IT TO MY FACE PUNK ASS BICTHES ALL I ASKED IS HOW DO U GET THE FUCKING RADIO COMMANDS THE REST OF WHAT I DO IS MY CONCREN"

Roughly translated: You all better shut the fuck up. I have not done shit to you so if you keep talking shit then say it to my face, punk ass bitches. All I asked is how do you get the fucking radio comments, the rest of what I do is my concern.

As soon as I read that the tables in my argument to the advantage of stupidity. Not only do you show a lack of regard for the possible outcomes of that comment, but you took the typical route of a generic 12 year old and decided to put it unintelligably and worst of all, in capital letters.

As I am aware this site does not condone cheating. You have posted a screenshot which clearly states you are cheating, you admit you were cheating, so therefore it is their business. You also posted this on a public forum, which consequently means that it's the public's business.

To conclude the point of my story I am going to sum it all up into 3 words.

"You are stupid"
