ACK, all you ever do is put people down. That is your life. You always tell people "what they need to do better" and "I can do better than that." But yet you never prove it. People ask you to prove that you can do better than them. But you say "no." "There is no need to." So that leaves us to conclude that you are really not that good. You just try and sound like you are an expert at stuff or mainly anything. All the maps you ever make are just like other fan made maps and most of them just suck. Most of your maps are plain. EX: 2 to 3 maybe 4 building wide-open terrain everywhere (Which anyone can put 3 building's with wide open terrain and do nothing.) You never try and help what they need. If you do that I promise you people will like you more and for whom you are. Than just trying to be your friend because you have (Power.) Also you will get a good name. You will be more famous by helping people. And also build maps that are actually yours and not WW like (Glacier Flying.)
