danpaul, you said this would be impossible because there was nothing about this in the scripts, and that you would only be able to do anything about it if jonwill added more to the scripts, well, it turns out it is in, and above is explained a way im pretty sure will be some what effective (or atleast work)

Danpaul never said it was impossible, he said it was impossible for brenbot to do as brenbot can only do console commands. there's a difference between console commands and scripts.
