I think the answer will be "when it's done".

Don't forget: the tricky part comes now -> getting the Xwis admins to make it work in the game...

That's actually not that big a deal. All that has to be done is to point servserv to wherever the ladder ends up being hosted, and it's done.

It will go live once we change a few features as far as how the data is stored in the database and the web interface integrated into RenegadeCommunity.com.
