Point whoring is not a bad thing... It's how you win the game. But when basically the whole team is point whoring and that's all they're doing there's no point. If the makers of renegade did not want point whoring they would have made it not possible with such things as MRS's and Mobiles . Point whoring gets a lot of people pissed and there's really no strategy to it but it helps win the game. Something to think about :rolleyes:
