Sure. I feel racism is completely archaic and that fl00d3d is trying to back up his blatantly racist comments with fake "facts" that have nothing to do with race.

On the other hand, I feel affirmative action is bullshit and this country has some idea that racism against whites is okay/can't happen.

In a nutshell: Racism is retarded, and fl00d3d or anyone else still needs to show something that's "bad" about another race if they want to justify their actions.

Thought that would be pretty obvious from my previous posts, but oh well.
