I'm not one to intentionally publically humiliate someone.....

But basically I'm just sick of the personal embarassment I (and my community) have suffered on their behalf. They claim to have 20+ members but only have like 3 or 4 active members. They run a server where you can play 1v0 ... and they also kick/ban everyone who is better than them (CHEATZ!!1!).

Trooprm02 has a little bit of work to do on his attitude and needs to be humbled. 07 is a really cool guy, I've come to find, but he's left the clan because of recent drama. 18 is pretty cool too (and is the one who pays for everything) but the last I heard he's leaving too. So that would leave 02 and 14 as the only active members. Just not worth it for my community.

If anyone has a clan they're developing and they're serious about making it better ... give me a shout and we'll talk. I am particularly interested in any clans that play more than just Renegade.
