I see death as part of a job. A job that someone has to do.

What I do not do, is to actively seek ways of seeing a person die. Thats is what people who are "sick in the head" do.

Thats what I think of anyone looking to view Saddams death.

He deserved to die, no doubting that, but to have people searching and watching his death video, well thats a pretty pathetic individual.

Families of those that died at his bidding, may rejoice at the video, that is understandable.

What I cannot understand is why anyone not related to the incident wants to watch.

But hey!! Everyone to his own, no one will stop you viewing the video if you want to get a kick out of life, in that manner.
