You have got to be kidding me.

When Crimson wrongly accused me of ddosing Renguard in an attempt to defame my character out of anger, people were banned for saying things like "but spoony didn't do that".

On that basis, keeping 0x90 unbanned is laughable.

So do what I do at CW. If someone's banned and they sneak back in, ban them again. Repeat as long as it takes for them to get the message. It works for us... it really just depends whether you have the persistence and the will, I suppose.
