To the best of my knowledge, the rule we have agreed on is that clearscope is bad, but if you want to remove the green part and still have the black around it, that's OK.

We rule with an iron fist, too. We don't put up with bullshit from any player. We do, however, allow swearing. My policy on bad attitudes from players is just to watch how many people are clicking Start over and over, trying to get into the game. My moderators and I don't need to put up with bad attitudes to keep a full server.
