(1) troopr02, why were you hanging out on the TsuGaming.com teamspeak today, then?

(2) Stonecold has not been proven a cheater. By anyone. If ANYONE has ANY proof whatsoever, please bring it forward right now in this post. Otherwise, drop it.

(3) FireBlaze and Killer (both BHE members at the time) had decided to leave TRPM and form BHE and Killer, in an act of retardation, decided that he would cheat with +TRPM+ tags on to make you look bad. When it came to me, I pulled him aside and asked him because we have a zero tolerance cheating policy. I asked him what the story was about and told him that I don't care what the circumstance was, it was no excuse. I talked it over with a few of the other adults in the community to see what their opinion was and we agreed that he's only a kid and it was to piss you off - and that we've had ZERO problems with him on any other level. So I gave him a final warning and told him that if anyone comes to me with the slightest suggestion of proof - he's a goner from the entire community. Fireblaze never cheated. troopr14 may have (and while he was in TRPM) but he isn't a member of our community in any way, so it is no longer my concern.

(4) [BHE]Eskamo200 and [BHE]3skam0 are two different people, and are brothers who live in the same house.

(5) [BHE]Eskamo200 and another were in a clanwar with BiO - and they thought that BiO cheated, so he felt it necessary to cheat. BiO complained, showed me the proof, and I spoke with him personally. He admitted it to me - and I banned both him and his brother from RenUnderground (our community's renegade servers) since they share the same hashes/IPs. I also insisted that he be kicked out of BHE clan, and he was.

(6) Killer has gone on to join RR clan, which was around before [BHE] and is mostly adult players. I believe he's the youngest. Anyway, that does not mean that other RR players cheat - nor does it mean that Killer is a cheater. The kid is clean, wanted to fuck with you (who wouldnt) on his last day ... got a stern warning ... life goes on.

Do not come on these forums, looking for sympathy, starting up trouble, and flaming my community and its members unless you are prepared to defend yourself. I run a very tight ship and I'm very strict about cheating. If I hadn't taken all of the above situations into careful consideration (and council from my fellow adults in the clan), it may be a different scenario. But I stand by my decision; and anyone who trusts me or has faith in my leadership and decision making would too.
