I forgot I had a few post-embargo pictures for you. Many of the presentations we saw took place on this huge screen. I apolgize that one of them is blurry... I guess I shook the camera a bit, but the second one is pretty clear. This is from the actual alpha version of the game that we played, but Greg Black is telling us about the game while one of the other guys (I can't remember who) was actually playing it.

You should pay close attention to the sidebar... I think the tooltips are awesome.
