Most of the screenies there i did not make them myself, i think "The_Aces_of_Razgriz" took some of them and compiled a selection of "best screenshots" which i used now.

The graphical quality of APB have significantly increased since Jonwil and Saberhawk have introduced their Shaders and Anti-Aliasing and of course the people from the APB team that have been working on the textures themselves as well.

Possibly your graphics card does not support these options...
With them enabled the game looks great, actual competition to more recent game graphic quality.
