Aircraftkiller You'd think that WL would be dedicated to the game, but they aren't. Oh well, they can go - some beta testers are still here, and I'm one that isn't leaving for the foreseeable future. Why should we stay when there were so many clans chicken to play us? The main reason i got sick off it was that you were trying to get a clan game for a few hours and then one clan wanted but then they chickened out again because it was "WL".

After i changed pc i also got issues that my game freezes in the menu every 5 seconds and sometimes ingame. That made me stop playing at all.

And there are also new games comming. Aren't we allowed to play those? This game isn't HL that you stay playing for years but we still played it for a long time.

And for Planetside its not a real clan game. Its more like the bigger your outfit and the more you play the higher you get. Its also not worth the monthly fee.

Savage will be more a game to replace renegade for me.
