Well, we ended up playing 2 games today. The first game he pretty much beat me but started screwing around. He took out both the ref and bar, then was hitting wf. I had a hottie and was repairing and he ran in and threw his timed on then ran back to his arty and kept shooting at wf. I ended up getting enough for a med and killed his arty then took off to his base. Killed strip then I guess he got a sbh/nuke and went to my base. I ran into ref and planted my c4, and started shooting hand. He layed his nuke but I was able to come back and destroy his base.
The 2nd game I was nod this time and I ended up killing his engi with mine and started running towards his base. He got an apc so I ended up just killing myself. I got a tech and hid in the hand and waited for him to come to my base. He got out at strip so I jumped in his apc and took out his wf. This last game wasn't really supposed to happen, he did say before that it would be only one game, but we started playing this one. Once I took out the wf, we ended it there.

GG's Troop, i'm not gonna talk shit or anything, just basically letting people know that u didn't dodge.

Definately gonna play again.
