Teh n00bjet. Very annoying when your bar/hon is wiped out. If your good (and it's a non-base defense map) you can sometimes sneak past all of the enemy and make it into their base (walls is a good one for that). And if you happen to have a beacon (which your usually overflowing with cash and nothing to spend on at this point) you can set it in there and most of the time they're so busy on offense that they don't bother looking for it. A couple years back I remember I was able to sneak into Nod's ref as a grenadier and kill the structure. No one even tried to stop me :/ .

Back to the topic, sereiously annoying and they should just lay the beacon and cover it with the apcs and end it :/ .
